Zittrouer Elected May Queen; Mann Named Maid of Honor "World Neighborhood" May 7

By ADEL CALLOWAY

Uhlma Wynn Zittrouer, senior from Sylvania, is the choice of the student body for their Queen of May for the annual May Day exercises this year. Abbie Mann, senior from Thomasville, was runner-up in the election and will be the maid of honor.

The May Day exercises are to be held at the college amphitheatre on May 7. The reason for the change from May 1 was given as due to the change of time of the election of May Queen and court.

The May queen was selected from the senior class, all senior girls being eligible for election. The entire student body voted for the queen, and the members of each class voted for attendants from their particular class. Each class has two attendants to the queen. They are as follows:

Seniors—Allie Jean Alderman and Dorothy Fulcher.

Juniors—Esther Lee Barnes and Leila Wyatt.

Sophomores—Venice Clifton and Dorothy Remington.

Freshmen—Frances Martin and Wynelle Nesmith.

A run-over was held in the senior class between Allie Jean Alderman and Dorothy Garner, and in the sophomore class between Venice Clifton and Catherine Rowse.

The WAA is sponsoring the May Day Festival. Miss Edith Guill, director of the girls' physical education and of the WAA, is directing the May Day program.

Miss Guill has announced that the theme of the program will be "World Neighbors," because with the present transportation facilities and other conditions, we are really neighbors with all the other people of the world.

Folk dances have been selected for the program from various parts of the world. Many of the dances are from allied nations and from America.

The students from the Laboratory School and the college will participate in the program.

TURNER SPEAKS ON FIFTY YEARS PAPER SERVICE

Statesboro Editor Guest
Of College In Chapel
Exercises Next Monday

Mr. D. B. Turner, editor of the Bulloch Times in Statesboro, will address the student body next Monday on the subject, "Sixty Years As a Country Editor." The Statesboro Rotary Club will have its regular Monday luncheon at the college following the address by Mr. Turner.

On April 20th, Mr. Turner will celebrate 50 years of continual service to Bulloch county and Statesboro in the newspaper field. He has always been a supporter of the college, having spoken a numerous assembly and college programs. The quiet, dignified manner in which he carries himself, and the wisdom of his homespun philosophy, has endeared him to the college and its students.

Besides contributing to the progress of the school through his efforts as editor of the Bulloch Times, he incidentally, prints this college publication, The George-Anne, at the Times office in Statesboro.

At the present time Mr. Turner is running an article in the Bulloch Times telling of his adventures since coming to Statesboro and the influence that atoms and electrons have played in his life.

Naval Reserve Test

Tomorrow, April 20, all of the boys in the Naval Reserve V-1 and V-7 program of the navy and marines in the freshman and sophomore classes will report to Room 28 to take a 4½ hour navy achievement test. The test will be broken into two sections, the first half to be taken in the morning and the second in the afternoon.

Results of the test will determine placements and classifications after June. All boys in pre-med. in the navy training program do not need to take this test.

SUMMER SESSION BEGINS JUNE 7

Laboratory School To Be Operated; Defense
Course Will Be Offered

With emphasis on the Victory Corps, industrial arts, defense courses and the usual emphasis on state curriculum and regular college work, the 1943 summer session at Georgia Teachers College will be opened June 7th and continue through August 20th.

The first term of the session will run from June 7th to July 13, and the second term from July 14th to August 20th. By attending both terms a student can earn one-third of a year's credit.

The Victory Corps program will be offered as a special feature of the summer session with two of the state supervisors, Oscar Joiner and William Bodenheimer, as visiting instructors. The regular college faculty will serve during the summer, augmented by guest members. The college will offer defense courses which will be of special help to young men and women when they are called into the service. Courses will be offered for superintendents and principals who are interested in promoting industrial arts in their own schools, and courses will be offered for elementary teachers who wish some knowledge in industrial arts.

Other features of the 1943 summer session will include the summer session chorus of mixed voices, a well rounded recreational program, and parties and socials. The Laboratory School will be operated on the campus for observation and practice work. There will be curriculum construction courses for elementary and high school teachers and a curriculum laboratory open for use of experienced teachers.

Every indication points to a large summer enrollment due to the emphasis of the government of the school's program during wartime.

Short Term Begins On Thursday, April 28

The regular "short spring term" of Teachers College will begin here Thursday, April 28, and continue through June 2, with eight courses offered in six fields.

The spring short term is offered for those teachers whose schools have closed, and for any others who wish to take advantage of the opportunity to complete a full term's work in six weeks.

Harry Robertson, senior from Waycross, has been named editor of the George-Anne to succeed Jimmy Jones, junior of Statesboro, who has been called into the Officers' Reserve of the United States Army. Jones will continue to be ex-officio editor of the George-Anne, with Robertson as acting editor.

Takes Over . . .

Harry Robertson

During his three years at Teachers College, Jones has made an outstanding record as a student and as a leader. He has served actively on the Student Council, was secretary of Georgia Collegiate Press, president of the Bugger Dagger club, a social organization of the campus; actively associated with the YMCA and Bachelors Club, and is a member of the Iota Pi Nu fraternity.

Robertson is a past editor of the George-Anne, and served as business manager under Jones. He is president of the Delta Sigma fraternity, chaplain of the Bachelors Club, has served on the Student Council, Sanford house council and the YMCA. This year he was chosen to appear in Who's Who Among Students in American College and Universities. He enters the USNR upon graduation in June.

A HERO AT HOME

The young men of the nation, and many young women, too, are in the government service battling for the preservation of democracy. Additional large number are serving in other capacities. Georgia Teachers College has more than 375 in the armed services, including 16 faculty members. Of this number twelve are women. There are 146 degree graduates and 214 non-graduates in uniform. The nation has a big job on its hands and needs all the manpower it can get.

But all the fighting is not done with guns and bombs.

It is patriotic to shoulder a gun, fly a fighting plane, or help make a battleship.

Heroes and patriots are needed at home, too. The biggest battle will come after the war and those who take their positions in the schoolroom are heroes and patriots marching along beside the armed forces of Uncle Sam.

It takes real stamina to be a hero where there are no military uniforms, no bugle calls, martial music, bombs bursting in the air, and other excitement of fighting armies. Of such are the heroes of the teaching profession.

More than ever the world will need leaders after the war. The kind of leaders we will have will depend wholly upon whether the children of today shall know success through might or right.

The bulwark of true democracy, the public school, is doomed unless the teachers continue their work and also prepare for the days to come.

When so many others are turning to less permanent positions because of temporary advantages, we insist that now is the time to prepare for the teaching profession. The program of education, particularly teacher training, was never more clear. It must prepare many more teachers and do it quickly.

PROFANITY ON THE CAMPUS

(ED. NOTE: This article was written by Lewis Hinely for the George-Anne as a contribution of the YMCA.)

"Thou shalt not use the Lord thy God's name in vain."

Are you conscious of the fact that God's name is used in vain dozens of times every day? Some of the boys have said that they did not mean to use profanity, but they just couldn't break themselves of the habit. However bad your habits are they can be broken. Certainly the habit of cursing is one that should be broken. Many boys here on the campus who use God's name in vain are absolutely unconscious of the fact that they have committed a sin. Do you realize what God meant when he said, "I will not hold him guiltless who taketh my name in vain." You may think that this is just a small sin, but the punishment for all sins, whether great or small, is the same.

It would be well worth while for us to be very careful in our choice of words, and not say things that we wouldn't want our mothers to hear and beyond that God knows our every thought. No man is any better than the words which come from his lips. Someone may be judging your personality and character by your every-day conversation. Is it what it should be? God's name is never used by some people except in their constant use of profanity. Are you one of these people?

Some of the conversation I hear in the dormitory remind me of a story I heard, in which a preacher asked a little boy if he knew God. The little boy looked up amazed and asked, "Is that the man who's last name is dam?" This is just about how little some people here on the campus seem to think about God.

THE RAFT

By ROBERT TRUMBULL

Reviewed by "Pop" Raulerson, Contributing Editor of the George Anne.

Early in 1942, Americans read with pride and admiration the newspaper accounts of three navy fliers who fought the South Pacific ocean for 34 days, while they drifted in a rubber raft without food, equipment, and for some time without clothes, yet survived to land, weak and bent, on a strange shore. The trio made a feeble effort to walk up the beach in military fashion. "If there are Japs on this island," Dixon said, "they'll not see and American sailor crawl. We'll stand and march, and make them shoot us down, like men-o-warsmen."

As a desperate struggle against the sea, this tale far surpasses Captain Bligh's famous voyage. Harold Dixon, Gene Aldrich, and Tony Pastula had only a flimsy raft, not a well designed sail boat, no weapons or food or any land to afford a respite from their ordeal. But their story is more than that of hardship and courage, it is a testament of personal morale, proof of the military valour of the democratic ideal.

Stated in its simplest term, and shortest form, the facts of this exploit are unforgettable. Robert Trumbull, the experienced newspaper man who stayed close to the flyers during their long convalescence, has written a noble book. "The Raft" will stand among the enduring sagas of men and the sea.

Our Responsibility

As a student I ask myself quite often if I fully realize the responsibility invested in me. Today there are many of us who are postponing our education for a few years in order to help guard America. All of us that make up the younger class could well be called, "Tomorrow."

Let us understand that much is being sacrificed—time, and it is so precious—labor, money, and much more, to keep us in college, to develop our abilities so that we may take an active part in that "Tomorrow."

There are those of us who are making our last step before we go out to offer our services to mankind. We must realize the importance of the responsibility of being fully prepared.

This institution, which is composed of us, can and will give us this opportunity for control of our future hopes and plans which will help to compose and control this so great a democracy.

In a sense, tomorrow American is ours. Then it will be too late for us to prepare for this place of leadership. While we are preparing here, millions are giving all that they have—time, money and their lives. If you are to go in a few days or weeks to offer your service, you will find that all that you have acquired in these few years will help you in every way to obtain that which is best known as success.

Of course our abilities are varied, and thus our responsibilities will be varied; but we have one great cause for which we can all apply ourselves, and that is to preserve our liberty. Another great cause to which each of us can contribute is the betterment and the preservation of this institution.

To uphold its tradition and to carry on the work so magnificently begun will be no small task. The challenge is ours and the responsibility for meeting this challenge is ours.

By MAX LOCKWOOD.

Wade Hampton Says

Dear Editor:

Pears to me that the campus is doing a right smart of good good work now in the war effort. Every student seems to realize the need of doing his or her part in seein' that things is done right.

Several faculty members are plantin' Victory Gardens this spring, and that'll help heaps. The clubs are beginning to hold their meetings in the bandage room and are gettin' lots more off to the boys. They all seem to be interested in buying war savings stamps.

I shore miss Editor Jones, but we all got to be ready to take our turn.

Yours trulie,

WADE HAMPTON.

JUST ONE WAY

By HARRY ROBERTSON

The campus has seen on numerous occasions already the efforts of Aunt Sophie in the flower garden. Slowly but surely a wonderful change is taking place there and making things assume a brighter hue at the rear exit of Sanford Hall. Trouble brews, though, as Sophie doesn't have enough settings to keep her, Max Lockwood and Palmer Edenfield (her right hand associates, except when Max goes fishing with T. D. Blalock) busy in the afternoons. It would be a noble gesture if any student or faculty member who had a few extra settings at home would send or bring them to "Soph."

Do Without

It has been suggested that a "Do Without Club" with all the trimmings be inaugurated on the campus to curtail luxury spending. The members of this organization would pledge themselves to do without the little luxuries of life for the duration and put all surplus cash into war stamps. That is a mighty good idea, but the hang of it is that we all think we're doing without enough as is.

Anchor Away!

Tomorrow, boys, is the big day for the Naval Reserves tests. This test includes all V-1 freshmen and sophomores in the naval and marine reserve. If you are in doubt as to whether you take this test it would be a good idea to go by the dean's office and do some checking.

Summer school prospects look good and with the contingent of WAVES expected, things show every indication of a shiny future.

Both the dean and the president have been very busy lately in covering the surrounding country with speaking engagements. With graduation coming on in our high schools throughout the area there will be little rest for either. April 26th, the dean addresses the Memorial Day exercises to be held at Guyton; May 18th, he is the commencement speaker at Cedar Grove School in Alamo; May 24th, he delivers a commencement address at Rincon, and June 4th, he is commencement speaker at Odum. Dr. Pittman was not in at the time this column was written, so an itinerary of his trips is not carried at this time.

Through The Keyhole

By CHOLLY KNOCKINYOU

Dot Fulcher has added her name to the Lockwood "Folly Girls." Did the May Court decision aid this?

Did "Pop" or Blackjack give Sue poison ivy on the picnic? Maybe both contributed.

Could it be Feaster's domestic troubles that that cause him to serenade the girls at such late hours?

The new pin order includes: Parkerson, Groover, Hooks, Barnes, and Townsend.

Did Trixie mean Dekle when she said, "I hate you," when returning from a picnic the other day?

From Mac's report Billy Byers had better watch the women he goes with or Gilder will be looking for a new mate.

Vince, could that be love that you were making to Edwards in the library? Has the Buick convertible used up all its A coupons?

An all-day sucker to the person naming the "Unholy Three" of the T. C. campus.

ANCHORS AWEIGH! Here's luck to the two future brides of the navy. Here's hoping them a merry voyage—home.

Blalock answers to the last issue's column in coming to the rescue of Prosser.

A new tabulation of War Widows at T. C. shows that the list now includes the following: Remington, Ellison, Oliver, Bunn, Mann, Hendrix, Strickland, Clifton, Funderburke, Cromartie (?), Johnson and Mosely.

Does anyone have a clue to the surprise to be given Wynelle by Kimball in the near future?

English checks the claim left on Hendrix on the late picnic. Has anyone heard the report? Is Pete to be a king now that Uhlma Wynn is a queen? More power to him.

Is Rock trying to gain royal favor by taking one of the queen's attendants on a picnic?

Catherine, who is the curly-haired boy we see you with on the campus so much? Our mistake; that is one of Adel's haircuts.

Now that George has given you a fraternity pin, Esther Lee, is it REALLY beginning to get serious?

Ray, is it power or Powell that is making you settle down on the campus?

The president of the YMCA comes through with a beautiful romance on the campus.

Since spring is here Reginald is making eyes at the freshman, Donaldson.

Buddy Barnes is making plans to register for a course in bushology for the short term session. Wonder who will be the lucky girl?

Hitler's Reservation

Hitler called up the Devil on the telephone the other day. The girl at central listened to tell what they had to say. "Hello," 'twas Hitler speaking, "is old man satan home? Just tell him that the dictator wants him on the phone."

The Devil said, "Howdy, Adolph," and Hitler said, "How are you?" "I am running hell on earth so tell me what to do." "What can I do," said the Devil. "Dear pal of mine, you don't need any help from me; you are doing mighty fine."

"Yes, I was doing fairly well until some time ago, when a man named Uncle Sam told me to go slow. He said to me, 'Dear Hitler, we don't want to be unkind, but you have raised hell enough and you better change your mind.'"

"I thought his lend-lease bill was bluff; that he would never get through. But soon he put me on the spot and told me what to do. So that is why I called you, Satan, I need advice from you, for I know you can tell me exactly what to do."

Satan said, "Dear partner, there isn't much to tell, for Uncle Sam will make it hotter than I can here in hell. I have been a mean old Devil, but not half as mean as you. So the minute you get down here the job is yours to do. I will be ready for your coming, and I will keep the fires all bright; I will get your room all ready when Uncle Sam begins to fight. I know your days are numbered, and there is nothing left to do or tell; just hang up your phone, put on your hat, and come on down to hell."

Intra-Murals Begin Tuesday

Coach Smith has made plans to begin an intra-mural softball program among the men for this quarter.

In explaining the plans to the men he said that it would help very much in rounding into good shape physically, and also offer an afternoon of wholesome recreation.

As there are not enough men to represent the clubs and fraternities, two teams will be evenly divided and compete against each other two afternoons a week. This will include approximately twenty-five men. Everyone will be given a chance to play.

Coach added that he did not intend to try to kill competitive spirit among the men but to give everyone a fair chance to play.

The field will be in condition to begin playing soon. Good equipment will be available and all the men should come on down to the field and get into the game.

The two teams will be the Wild Cats, managed by George Mullins, and the Bears, managed by "Pop" Raulerson. The teams are:

Wild Cats, Wells, Varnell, Prosser, Feaster, English, L. Hinely, Olliff, Thigpen, Lanier, Herrington, Darley, Lockwood, Barnes.

Bears are Wolfe, Parrish, Pearman, Parker, DeLoach, W. Hinely, Pennington, Groover, Carruth, Harrell, Lee, Robertson, Beasley.

The first game of the season will be Tuesday at 4:45 p. m. All students and faculty are urged to attend.

Teachers Bulletin On Way to Press

A bulletin of Teachers College especially for alumni is expected to be distributed this week.

The bulletin will carry a letter from Sidney Boswell, president of the Alumni Association; a letter from President Pittman, a word about the service flag, and other features of interest to former students. The bulk of the bulletin is given over to a directory of degree graduates, giving their class year, home address and present working address.

"Make-Up" As Topic For Next G. A. Meeting

At the next meeting of the George-Anne staff, "How a Newspaper is Made Up," will be the topic of discussion. Last Wednesday night the staff met and discussed, "The Job of the College Newspaper."

Refreshments were served to the members of the George-Anne staff during the meeting.

Lithographs Obtained By Art Department

The fine arts department of the college has obtained a permanent loan of 154 lithographs, etchings, wood engravings, colored lithos and other examples of graphic art from the Federal Art Project of the Works Progress Administration. Definite plans for exhibition by the college art department will be announced as soon as possible.

Miss Frances Grove, head of the fine arts department, stated Tuesday that she wished to include in the plans for exhibition the probability of having some of the pictures framed and placed in the various halls and dormitories of the college lacking pictures.

The loan of the pictures was obtained from the Works Progress Administration in Chicago, Illinois, through information received by the college and Dr. Pittman.

At present a few of the lithographs are on exhibition in Miss Grove's studio.

D.L.D. Sorority Plans Get-Together

The Delta Lambda Delta held its weekly meeting Tuesday night in the Red Cross room. It had been agreed that we meet to make bandages each week until the end of the quarter, with the exception of a business meeting to be held once a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil, our sponsors, had the D.L.D.'s to dinner Saturday evening, April 3rd. Bridge was played and enjoyed by the group. We were interested very much by some very old music written by the Greeks, and some other prized possessions owned by the Neils. A delicious dinner was served at the close of the evening and the guests journeyed back to the campus after quite an enjoyable time.

Plans for a sorority get-together have been discussed and questioned. No date has been definitely set, but we hope that after the Easter holidays we will be able to complete our plans.

"Goochie," Hattie and Sue served at the last meeting. Beverly entertained us. Sho' was fun!

Jack Parker Pledges Fraternity; Morrison Elected Treasurer

The fraternity enjoyed a very delightful party at Cecil's Wednesday night, April 7th, which was given to us by one of our old members, Ensign James Parker. James is an ensign in the Naval Air Corps.

We had two new members formally initiated April 6th. They were Thomas Harrell and Ray Lanier. We also have a new pledge, Jack Parker. The fraternity has presented five dollars to the Red Cross through Miss Bolton, official representative on the campus.

Frank Morrison, of Statesboro, was elected treasurer at the last meeting of the fraternity, filling the vacancy left by Bill Brown. The fraternity is now compiling an honor list of all past brothers since its organization in 1929.

Sigma Gamma News

The meeting of the Sigma Gamma sorority was held Tuesday night, 11th. At this time plans for formal initiation, to be held at the next meeting, were made for Nell Newton.

Since all the members are planning to be home Easter, we will not be able to have our traditional Easter breakfast, but it was partially decided that we would have a breakfast or some other social after long week end.

The sorority has planned to roll bandages at the Red Cross room next Thursday afternoon, and we are all planning to do some type of Red Cross work other than rolling bandages.

Bugger Daggers Stage War Bond Drive

DeLoach and Parker Are Pledged

The Bugger Daggers held their weekly meeting in Sanford lounge on April 8th. The club boasts two pledges this quarter, C. E. DeLoach and Jack Parker.

All members and their dates had a de-light-ful time on Saturday afternoon, April 3rd, at a typical Bugger Dagger picnic on the back campus.

The club has lost several members to the draft or some phase of military service. Among those leaving the campus were Jimmy Jones, Sam Stephens, Robert Waters, Paul Bunce and Bobby Boatwright, a pledge.

Members are proving very responsive to the war bond fund campaign.

X Club Plans Banquet May 8

On Monday evening, April 5th, the X Club met in one of East Hall parlors. The meeting began as soon after 7:30 as it was possible for some of the members to assemble from various parts of the campus. Dorothy Garner, president, called the meeting to order several times, and plans for a banquet to be held during the quarter were made. Ex-X Club members are to be invited to the banquet which will take place May 8 (we hope). After much discussion pro and con, the club decided to plan to invite dates to the banquet because it looked as if there would not be enough men to go around left on the campus by that time.

Ida Lee Moseley was nominated and accepted as a prospective member. Dorothy Garner, Louise Townsend and Beth Stanfield were appointed to

"Why George-Anne?" Popular Question

"Where is Paper Printed?" Also Interesting Point

Why is the school paper named the George-Anne, and where is it printed, are two questions often asked and written to the editor of this paper.

The answer to the first, though somewhat vague, is in three parts: (1) George represents the male student and Anne the female, so it reveals the co-ed relationship; (2) It was named after King George and Queen Anne of England, and (3) it is a Georgia paper, hence George-Anne.

The paper is written by the students, made up at the office in the basement of the Ad Building, and printed bi-weekly at the Bulloch Times office in Statesboro.

make plans for initiating Catherine Rowse, Dot Remington, Louise Kicklighter and Winona Eason in the near future.

Refreshments were served by Dot Garner and Juanita Thomas.
